

STAFF RETENTION

Helping operators protect employee experience, and improve retention by 15-20% without raising wages

Operators who have long-term success, regardless of inflation, labor shortages or other challenges, need to understand how data and information can improve their business. But few operators have time to sift through all that information.

We use a holistic method of analyzing data in a way that immediately pinpoints opportunities and provides gateways to solutions for your problems.

1

Concept Clarity

Every business is different

To understand your business, we consider everything from service model to pricing strategy to wage structure to growth plan

2

Productivity measurement

We use a proprietary strategy

We measure your overall business productivity. Then we teach you to improve it and save thousands of dollars each year.

3

Compartmentalize data

In minutes, answers will jump off the page

We'll show you exactly where you can make improvements in your restaurant.

Mid sized restaurant companies typically find improvements of anywhere from 5-15%.
